2,000 kilometers (1,250 miles)

The Moroccan Escapade will bring together adventure enthusiasts from all over the world in Marrakesh, Morocco.

Once assembled, they embark on a 2,000 km trek across the country in their vehicles of choice, be it a classic Trabant or their brand new Land Rover, finally arriving back in Marrakesh after 9 eventful days.

The Moroccan Escapade is a 'minimal assistance' event, so rather than handing all out on a plate we provide the tools and facilities participants need to find their own fun and adventure within the framework of our challenge that will have them discovering new places without spoiling the thrill of their own achievement. We won't smother or mother participants on the Moroccan Escapade and if they can get to the start, and more importantly finish, they can drive anything you like from and to Marrakesh.
